2019 Irma M Parhad Award for Excellence - Call For Nominations

Named in honour of the late Irma M Parhad, MD, who had a highly productive, though short career as a neurologist and neuropathologist.

Each year, C5R proudly recognizes our members who have demonstrated outstanding contributions to the understanding and treatment of patients suffering from cognitive disorders.

This Call for Nominations plays an integral role in that process. We encourage your participation and invite you to join us in celebrating the contributions made by your associates and fellow professionals.

Description of Achievements

It is important that all nomination material be completed. The selection of the Award recipient is based solely on the information provided in your nomination package.

- a) Describe nominee's academic achievements
- b) Describe nominee's community care and organizational qualities
- c) Describe public policy and administration contributions made by the nominee

Letters of Support/Testimonials

Letters from individuals attesting to the impact and value of the nominee's achievements are welcome, as are additional materials such as articles; publications; media stories; etc. (Do not include originals)

Narrative

Attach your narrative illustrating why the nominee is deserving of this award. Other examples, such as awards or symbols of recognition showing the esteem in which others hold the candidate, will be most helpful. Persons wishing to nominate a colleague should consult with others expected to support the nomination, including any co-workers or family members, to help prepare the nomination materials.

The confidential selection process is conducted by the C5R council and their decision is final.
